International Business Administration

In addition to basic economic knowledge, the course of study provides you with the ability to think and act globally. You will acquire interdisciplinary, international, and intercultural skills. The six-semester bachelor's programme is divided into general education and a major study field. The courses are embedded in the international context. During the first three semesters, you will complete general business and economics modules and an integrated foreign language training. Within the major study field, you will expand your expert knowledge in three out of ten elective disciplines and complete an integrated stay abroad.

Career options

Every company needs economists, no matter if it is an oft-quoted global player, an NGO, a hospital or a political party – none of them will survive without proper management. Already during your studies at Viadrina, you will gain fundamental insights into the business environment. Lectures with practical relevance, integrated internships, and a study-abroad program will provide you with important experience and will prepare your mind for problems relevant in the business world. The Viadrina bachelor's degree in International Business Administration opens doors to appealing career opportunities and paves your way to an international working environment.

Internationality

During your studies at Viadrina, you will complete one semester abroad. With a network of more than 250 partner universities all over the world, we will support you in planning and organizing your stay abroad. You can even earn two degrees within the regular period of study with one of our popular double-degree programs at selected partner universities.
